VIVA Ball On June 6

Ted Armitage, candidate for election to the Pasadena Board of Education, recently praised VIVA, Voices in Vital America, for its firm stand in quelling campus unrest. VIVA, a nonpolitical, tax exempt students' organization, seeks change and redress of grievances through orderly constitutional processes and has the support of the quiet majority. Armitage, in making a $100 contribution to VIVA, said he agreed with President Nixon that there is no substitute for the firm will of the academic community.

Tract 27459 In the News

Tract 27459 is again in the news, this is the tract known as the Neutzel Tract, aka Sierra Madre Estates, aka Vista de Vieo, aka Greenglen, now under construction by the F and P Construction Company.

Engineer Leon Martin has denied a grading permit to the construction company to repair the "pop-outs" on Lots 23, 24, 35 and 37.

This is the second or third time this has occurred to these slopes, and previously it was felt that an existing spring was present beneath these slopes; however soil tests, borings and consulting Engineers have determined that the "pop-outs" are caused by heavy seepage.

Engineer Martin wants extensive work done, eliminating the possibility of future damage, coming under the jurisdiction of future owners of the slope.

Engineer Lockman, representing the developer, asks for consideration and was heard at the regular meeting of the Council on May 27. The Council requested the developer come up with the best corrective measures to eliminate future failure of the slopes and elimination of new owners facing mud slides.

Shopping Bag Takes Over A & P Markets

On May 26, the E. F. MacDonald Shopping Bag Stores completed the purchase of all 30 A & P Supermarkets in the Southern California area.

According to E. F. MacDonald, chairman of The E. F. MacDonald Company, the acquisition continues the growth pattern and establishes a chain of 70 fine food stores to serve Southern Californians.

All 30 of these former A&P stores will immediately be converted to Shopping Bag units, with special emphasis being placed on freshness and highest quality of produce and meats. Insofar as possible, all former A&P personnel will be retained in their present capacity, but a new sparkling Shopping Bag look will soon be evident in all these new units, it was stated by Norman H. "Buz" Bolstad, president of Shopping Bag Stores.

Ordinances Into Law

Council Should Take Second Look At Parking Ordinance; Far Too Stiff

Could Be Key To Whole Future of Sierra Madre

by R. Robert Evans

Information from a fairly authentic source has reached the Sierra Madre News Office that the Duckett-Wilson Development Company will again submit a revised plan for the construction of the Alpha Beta-Acme Shopping Center at the southeast corner of Baldwin and Sierra Madre Blvd.

In speaking about the matter to a couple of the Councilmen, Past Mayor and Councilman Ralph R. Rule, when questioned, walked to the window of the News Office and looked out over the Roberts Market site, and made the following remark, "There lies the entire key for the development of Sierra Madre."

Yes sir, this could be the start of what I have visualized for our City. It could be the incentive for the entire town to reconstruct their store fronts. It could be the rejuvenation of the shopping area.

Continuing, Councilman Rule said, "We have had very authentic reports that over 7-million dollars in business has been escaping our shopping area. It is the projected hope of Alpha Beta to recapture and keep within the city some 4-million dollars of this business."

Management of the Alpha Beta Stores has determined that they are willing to invest some $325,000 in buildings exclusive of the land, fixtures and improvements and according to their yardstick the parking that they can provide in the development.

741 Woodland To Be Abated

After being run off the property, City Engineer Martin, recommended to the City Council that the conditions of a public nuisance be placed against 741 Woodland Drive and proceed to process it in 30 days.

Engineer Martin pointed out to the council that the property was under absentee ownership of Fred Ridgway, of Pasadena, but inhabited by a Mr. Downend and family who refuses to comply with existing laws.

The City Council reviewed past events and ordered the nuisance abated.

Art Fair Is Financial Success

Credit for the success of the 7th Annual Art Fair goes to many, many people who worked so hard behind the scenes in preparing for the event, too numerous to mention, and to the many exhibiting artists. Dick Johnson was chairman of the exhibits committee. Also to the Rose Float Association for the magnificent job they did with their food booth.

Fast becoming a well-known community project, much community effort was also put forth in making the event a success. Committees and their families and friends and other interested persons started at noon on Friday, May 16 and worked till 9 p.m. to set the stage in readiness. And then all returned early Saturday morning for the finishing touches.

Each year the Art Fair is bigger and better than ever. Financially-wise also. This year's total sales were $3,850. After the tax is deducted, the Friends of the Library will receive 15 percent of this amount. They will also receive 15 percent of the money taken in by the food booth. Receipts from donations and other sources have not been tallied yet.

Sierra Eng. President To Head Drive

Aaron Bloom, president, Sierra Engineering Co., has been appointed Sierra Madre chairman of the annual Hope Sunday drive June 8 for the City of Hope by Apollo 8 astronaut William Anders.

Lt. Col. Anders circled the moon last Christmas in the pioneering flight which took man, for the first time, outside the earth's gravity. He is serving as 1969 Honorary Chairman of Hope Sunday.

In accepting the chairmanship, Bloom said that "the fight against cancer, leukemia, and diseases of heredity, the blood, chest and heart is being advanced because of the combined efforts of the doctors, scientists and researchers at the City of Hope, and we who support them with our dollars."

He will lead hundreds of volunteers who will ring doorbells Sunday, June 8, seeking funds for expansion programs at the free non-sectarian Pilot Medical Center.

Both Col. Anders and Bloom asked that local residents respond generously to this humanitarian call when a Hope Sunday volunteer marcher calls on them.

Aid In Rescue Of Two

Our Search and Rescue Team Helps In Mexico

Two American citizens were rescued Thursday May 22nd, after having been lost for two and one-half days in the rugged Sierra Pedro Martir range of northern Baja, Calif. Dr. Daniel Popper, 55, of Pacific Palisades and a professor of Astronomy at UCLA and Miss Barbara Anderson, 35, a librarian at the University of San Francisco had set out on Tuesday, May 20 at 2:00 p.m. in the afternoon to attempt to climb the second highest mountain in Baja California: Blue Bottle Peak 9,450. It was in this same region two years ago, that rescuers spent 17 days looking for two Pomona college students.

Darkness overcame the two and they lost their directions, even though they had a hand-drawn map and compass with them. When they did not return Tuesday night, Tom Pillsbury, the group leader for the Sierra Club trip, of which the two missing persons had been members, organized an immediate search of the camp area. Results were negative. Late Wednesday night the call went out via ham radio at the University of Mexico observatory for assistance from the United States. This message was picked up by Nash Williams, an amateur radio buff in La Canada, and he in turn notified members of the California Mountain Rescue Teams.

Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team sent 18 men and Montrose and Altadena teams sent three each. San Diego and Riverside Rescue groups were to supply seven each and the San Diego Sheriff's Aero Bureau supplied small, fixed-wing aircraft to airlift the crews the 200 miles to Meling Ranch on the Pacific Coast side.

From there it was another

Relocatables To Have Two Doors; Work To Be Completed By Fall Term

by R. Robert Evans

At last we have some definite and concrete facts about our Sierra Madre condemned School building which has been out of use almost one and a half years. The following letter sent to the City Administrator is in answer to two questions that were sent to the Superintendent of Schools by the request of the City Council. Dear Mr. Boehm:

In answer to your recent letters:

1. Our Board of Education has voted unanimously to place a second door in all of the relocatables purchased through 1967 Bond Issue funds, including those on the Sierra Madre Elementary School site. Following legal procedure, we are placing this item for bid. It should be received within three weeks.

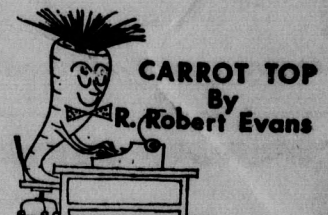

2. Drawings are now being completed for the rehabilitation of the main Sierra Madre School building. These drawings will be submitted to the State Division of Architecture by August 1, 1969. Construction should begin November 1, 1969, with the job scheduled to be completed by July, 1970.

3. According to this schedule, therefore, students of the Sierra Madre school will be occupying the new relocatables throughout the 1969-70 school year, and will move into their newly rehabilitated building in September of 1970.

Thank you for your interest and that of the Sierra Madre City Council, in our schools. It is our desire to work cooperatively with city government as we plan for the welfare of our school children.

Ralph W. Hornbeck
Superintendent of Schools
Secretary to the Board of Education

After the letter was read by the City Council, Mayor Hartman suggested that they contact the correct party and secure a copy of the plans and drawings so that they could familiarize themselves to what extent the rehabilitation will be made. Some $750,000 was allocated in the 1967 Bond issue for the entire expense including engineering, architect fees and the rebuilding of Sierra Madre School.

In discussing or even mentioning the loss of business in Sierra Madre over the past six or seven years, we do not in anyway intend to blame this on the Merchants of our City as the whole fault, as some people have a tendency to do.

—CT—

The greatest fault that I can lay at the feet of the local Merchants is their lack of combining forces. There really is not a bigger "Shopping Center" in the whole of the San Gabriel Valley than the area of the Sierra Madre Merchants. As most people will tell you, in other shopping centers the merchants get together and promote, they yell and scream to get everyone's attention.

—CT—

If Sierra Madre Merchants would get together and do a little hollering and screaming, plus a little effort of down to earth "Merchandising" their business would easily increase 10 to 15 percent the first couple of months.

You see, here in Sierra Madre, we have practically lost our "identification." We are considered a "bedroom town" with a population of 12,271. I have no way of knowing, but I will make an honest estimate that 8,000 of that population do not give a "hoot" what happens in city hall or on the main street of our City.

—CT—

They have no football team to cheer, no athletics to get interested in, no merchant promotions to challenge them. The only thing that they are concerned with is to make the family pay check go from one pay period to another and during that period of time try and accumulate some kind of pleasures for themselves and their family.

—CT—

Over half of the people who live in Sierra Madre do not know who the Mayor of our City is. One third of them do not even know where City Hall is located. They have absolutely no sense of obligation to the community that serves them than anything. The only time they are concerned is when they receive their tax bill, and over half of them are renters and do not even have that concern.

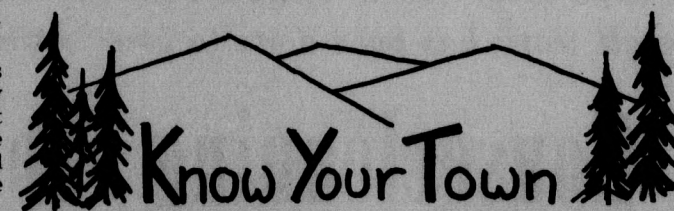

—CT—

By the merchants having promotions, they draw the attention of those people, those people become "involved" in the city, they look forward to shopping the town for "Specials" and a bond of friendship and obligation becomes very evident.

—CT—

Sierra Madre has 64 retail businesses with licenses to sell merchandise, their total volume of business runs in the vicinity of $64-Million a year. I know of cities with almost the same population, give a hundred here or there, that have 20 more business permits, but show a business of $12-million, and they are also bordered on each side with other cities and shopping centers. I know of another city that has a population of only 4,500 and has a business section of 79 business houses and has an annual sales enjoyment of a little over 10-million.

Q: DOES SIERRA MADRE HAVE A MASTER PLAN?
A: The State of California requires that all cities have a General or Master Plan which must include at the least a Land Use Element, Circulation Element and by July, 1969, a Housing Element.

In 1963, a Master Plan concept for our city was adopted by the Planning Commission including all of the legal requirements necessary. There were no further developments until November, 1967, when the Sierra Madre Planning Commission met and instigated a discussion of a Master Plan for Sierra Madre. A goals committee was then formed and in May, 1968, their report of broad generalized goals for the city was presented to the Planning Commission. Starting from these goals, ad-hoc committees were formed. These committees are making recommendations in the areas of: Land Use - Canyon Area - Commercial - Civic Center - Circulation and Parking. Until a new Master Plan becomes law, the city will continue to use present Zoning Ordinances and the official Land Use Map. Copies of the Zoning Code and Land Use Map may be obtained at City Hall for a small charge.

of 'em stood around with their hands in their pockets.

— SMVFD —

I do feel sincerely sorry for some of the Fireboys though. You see they volunteered their services to be a Firefighter. Then the City Dads offered to pay them $16 a month, then the Rules Committee of the Firefighters took away a couple of bucks a month for this and that, then the insurance company desired to deduct $6 a month for insurance, and that doesn't leave too much.

— SMVFD —

Well, just to make a long story very short, and at the same time end this column for the time being . . . with as many as 15 fires in one month, and other months with 10, and the boys missing most of them, they are quite unhappy when the paymaster comes around on that certain Friday night and asks them to ante up five or six bucks for the opportunity of being a volunteer . . . You see they are fined $1 for every fire they miss . . . Now doesn't that kinda take the old rag off the bush and expose the ritty gritty?

Pasadena High School PTA paid tribute at its annual association meeting on May 21, to four adults for their outstanding service to youth.

S.M. Civic Club

Last week the Sierra Madre Civic Club presented a check for $50 to the Parks and Recreation Department. Philanthropy chairman, Lois Watts, stated in her letter that the club presented the money with great pleasure to be used for equipment in the Recreation Center at Sierra Vista Park.

When the Recreation Center is completed in July, the money will be used to help purchase special equipment.

Toy Soldiers Plan For Honor Awards Party

The May 14 meeting of the Toy Soldiers was attended by 13 Toy Soldiers. Also attending were Mrs. Kathleen MacDonald, substitute Toy Soldier, Mrs. Charlene Mankin, Civic Club chairman, and Mrs. Jane Donelson, representative from Toy Loan Headquarters.

The group discussed 1) the Toy Loan Honor Award party scheduled for June 4 in Sierra Mesa Cafeteria; 2) Helping at the Kiwanis Breakfast; 3) Preparation for entry in the 4th of July parade; and 4) work to be done at the Toy Loan Center.

All the girls were enthusiastic and eagerly made plans for the program at the Honor Party and signed up to participate in various projects.

Toy Soldier, Mrs. Helen Peterson, is presently in St. Luke Hospital with a broken hip and in her absence the Toy Soldiers and Toy Loan are continuing as best as possible. A note from her was read before the meeting expressing her thanks and appreciation.

Each girl expressed concern and sympathy at Mrs. Peterson's misfortune and a 'round robin' telephone call was made to the hospital to wish Mrs. Peterson a speedy recovery.

Pi Beta Phi To Convention June 22 - 29

"Everything will be coming up carnations" in the City of Roses when over a thousand members of Pi Beta Phi from the United States and Canada arrive in Pasadena for their 47th biennial convention June 22nd through 29th.

Mrs. Lee T. Kurek of San Marino is convention chairman assisted by Mmes. Jerome Hart, registration, and Will Higgin, hospitality, of Pasadena.

The Huntington-Sheraton Hotel will be decked with wine and blue colors and fresh wine carnations, the national collegiate fraternity's official flower, for the five days of activities. Mrs. Edwin H. Busch of La Canada met with growers in January to assure the delivery of the unusual blooms in time for the convention.

The Pi Beta Phi Grand Council of officers will arrive on June 14th for pre-convention meetings and last minute plans.

The name of Pi Beta Phi has become known not just in collegiate circles, but throughout the world for its famous 57 year-old Settlement School in the Great Smoky Mountains in Gatlinburg, Tennessee. Pi Beta Phi started the Settlement School as a living memorial to its founders. Pi Beta Phi is a non-profit organization, devoted to philanthropic, scholastic and social activities. In 1912, Pi Phi provided a teacher who came to Gatlinburg and continued with the class of thirteen pupils at the end of the three months term offered by the county. This developed into a summer craft project, including Arrowcraft Shop which is supported by Pi Phi Alumnae Clubs, chapters.

Program chairman, Mrs. R. Leadabrand, will introduce Larry Palmer, Art Critic for the Pasadena Star News, who will speak on "The World of Art Critics." Assisting the hostess will be Mmes. Theo Rieger, Arcadia; Harold Pierce, Pasadena, and J. Warren Nelson, San Marino. Those wishing more information may contact Mrs. Rieger, 355-1798.

Pro-America Unit Meets June 6

The Honorable George Murphy, senior senator from California, will deliver a major address at the annual luncheon meeting of the Pasadena Unit of Pro America Friday, June 6. The event will be held at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena.

The Southern California Chapter of Pro America has endorsed Senator Murphy for re-election in 1970 because of the vital role he has played in the interest of the nation as well as his home state. In the field of education Mr. Murphy has distinguished himself by introducing and supporting important legislation since his appointment to the Education Subcommittee in 1967. He has authored, sponsored and supported bills designed to eliminate water and air pollution and measures in the interest of conservation of natural resources.

In the field of international affairs, Murphy has consistently supported a strong American stance against Communism. He supports efforts to build the effectiveness of U.S. military forces, believing that a strong military gives the free world its best bulwark against Communist pressures and its best guarantee of peace.

The luncheon will be held at noon in the Venetian Room. The public is cordially invited. For reservations call Mrs. Lawrence Odlin, ticket chairman, 799-1995, or Mrs. E. David Shooshan, general chairman, 792-3308, donation, $6.

Classmates Of Former Student Provide Memorial

The classmates of John Day, the 11-year old Sierra Madre boy who was killed in a fall in Bailey Canyon last month, sent a check to the Sierra Madre Parks and Recreation Commission. The presentation was from Mr. Bowman's fifth grade class at Sierra Madre School.

The letter stated that "we wish this money to be used in the tree planting project at the site of the New Recreation Center and to be given as a memorial to John Day."

When the Recreation Center is completed in July, Mr. H. L. Dietrich will do the landscaping. At this time, a special tree will be set aside and marked in "Memorial to John Day."

With Our TEENS

by Debbl Anderson and Tim Anderson

We had a meeting on Tuesday, May 20, at the Headliner. After the meeting we were all served Cokes and French fries, which the Teen Council paid for. New members were Bard Crehan, Marco De Silva, Bruce Peppin, Donna and Mike Cordell. In all, 45 were in attendance.

We had an adult visitor, Mr. Ed Riley from the Sierra Madre Police Department. Adults are welcome — as visitors only.

The major portion of the meeting was devoted to the discussion and approval of the constitution and by-laws of the teen organization. After much discussion (and I mean much discussion) the constitution and by-laws were approved. From now on, the group will be known as the Sierra Madre Teen Club. Officers will be elected to form the governing body, which will be known as the Sierra Madre Teen Council. In my article next week, I will have more details on the constitution and information so the teens can start signing up to run for officers of the club. The elections will be held in approximately three weeks.

Sierra Madre night at Dodger Stadium will be on June 14. The Teen Club would like to have a good turnout because we know that we are part of the community and we want to be represented at this city activity. Tickets can be picked up at the recreation department for $4, which includes ticket and transportation.

Teen Club member Robyn Jordan sang at the San Gabriel Civic last Friday night. She is one of the Teen Club members who entertained the Sierra Madre Senior Citizens three weeks ago when we put on a party for them.

Until next week folks, this is Debbl Anderson — signing off.

P.S. If you've got any questions, suggestions, or comments, write to Debbl, care of Sierra Madre News. Bye.

Comedy Skit Highlight Of Annual

Approximately 100 people attended the third Annual Crusader's Luncheon - Fashion Show at the Woman's Club house on Friday, May 16. This is put on each year by the Cancer Society Members and the Crusade Neighborhood Chairman as a 'Thank You' to the Crusade workers.

A delightful bit of froth added to the program was the comedy skit, which was

Sounds like a very good idea. Don't forget. Can't wait to see the display.

As Ives Sees It

OLD HANKUS PREDICTS ... ROOKIE MARK DONO - HUE will win the Indy 500 on Memorial Day. The moon-faced Pennsylvanian has been king of the Grand Prix and sportscar circuit recently and is a first class driver.

NATURALLY A. J. FOYT and Mario Andretti rate favoritism but ill fate always seems to follow little Mario and the odds board definitely goes against A. J. picking up another Indy winner.

SIX GRADUATING SENIORS who earned all-CIF honors in football last season are among the 25 players selected to represent the West in the fourth annual San Gabriel Valley All-Star grid clash, July 31, at Citrus Stadium.

Blair's Pete (Fraissee) Hanson, 220-pound tackle heads the list that also includes Sylvester Youngblood and Dave Ogden from PHS, Blair center, Jack Schep, Arroyo's Al Selander at guard and guard Mark McInnis of Temple City. Barry Dean and Ken Harris, a fine pair of ends, represent Muir, while Loren Mollner is the lone St. Francis graduate.

There have been some ding-dong battles in the three years that have found the West winning twice and last year's encounter ending in a 14-14 deadlock.

USC ALUMS will be sticking pins in the Old Hankus doll but I think it is sort of keen to see UCLA in the NCAA baseball finals. The Trojans have dominated diamond play for sooooo long. The opposite was true when Bob Boyd's USC cagers knocked off UCLA at Pauley Pavilion.

WONDER how Bill Rienev or Dick Walsh will succeed in nailing some dynamite in Rick Belchard's hat. The Angels' main need is an RBI man like Ernie Banks, Hank Aaron, Willie McCovey, Al Kaline, Frank Robinson. I wish they had successfully landed badboy Richie Allen last winter during the Inter-league trading period.

TRACK FANS have always been more than willing to jump in their autos and safari some distance for a good meet. Such will be the case Saturday afternoon, June 14, when many of the world's top track and field athletes congregate at El Modena High in Orange County for a special invitational.

The field is loaded with class such as Eddie Ottos of Italy, Clarke, Doubell and O'Brien, the Aussie trio of distance runners, Toomey, Danek, Pennel and all of the stars of the AAU.

COME TO THINK OF IT, if a team has to go with castoffs such as Dick Stuart and Lou Johnson, they really can't expect to be very high in the standings. If the hinted trade of Tom Egan, Roger Repoz and Clyde Wright to Washington for Mike Epstein and Paul Casanova is for real, good grief, do it.

LONG RANGE PREDICTIONS ... Joe Frazier to outpoint Jerry Quarry when they meet in New York and Mando Ramos to knock out Yoshaki Numata at the Coliseum, June 14. Ernie Indian Red Lopez to flatten Hedgemon Lewis in the supporting Coliseum bout.

AT THE RACES ... Have you wondered why Milo Valenzuela isn't getting many mounts? Me too, he's good ... Sterlin Merlin Volzke is having a fine meeting with some real big winners ... Aren't there an uncommon number of winning underlays in the first and second races? Horses open at 8-1 on the morning line and go off at 8-5 in the afternoon and win by six lengths ... Dana Truckle, a pretty fair sort, opened at 20-1 one day and was a winner at 5-2.

GUS TREFFZGER is the choice again to win the upcoming Optimist Calcutta at Arcadia. Goose shoots in the low 80's and that should be good enough to win the low gross. Of course Hank (Hole-in-one) Ives is figuring on wrapping up the low net. You know, an eight here and a seven there.

Warning To All Swimming Pool Owners On Safety

Californians, who enjoy one-fourth of the 800,000 residential swimming pools in the country, may expect to suffer one-fourth of the expected 500 home pool deaths this year — mostly children — unless they heed basic safety precautions.

Your volunteer fire department warns that with the privilege and obvious benefits of owning a home pool goes the added responsibility of assuring your family and guests absolute safety. Therefore, homeowners enjoying or installing a home pool should take steps to see that it does not become a site of tragedy.

Consult with an expert and investigate several makes and models to determine which would be best for you. Many communities require certain precautions which you will need to know, such as distance from the house, fence height and other requirements.

The firefighters suggest all pool owners post a set of simple and explicit rules governing the pool area to be observed by family and guests alike. The rules should include:

1. Never swim alone.
2. Look before diving and dive only at the deep end and from a board.
3. No running or horseplay around the pool.
4. Absolutely no rough-housing in the water, and don't play tricks. (Jokingly calling for help and other such antics create confusion and may lead to tragedy).

5. No food or bottles carried to the poolside.

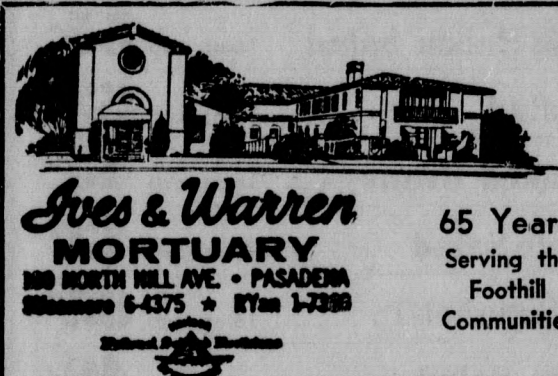

6. Young children must always be accompanied by an adult or teen who is a good swimmer.

Other rules should include the times your pool is used by friends or guests who might use the pool in your absence or at special authorized times.

By observing these few simple rules the homeowner can provide enjoyment for himself, his family and friends. And avoid becoming involved in a lawsuit.

The personal liability provision in all homeowners insurance policies protects the homeowner when a claim is filed or a damage suit is brought against him by persons who consider him responsible for their injuries. This protection applies not only to accidents occurring on your premises, but those occurring elsewhere if the injury or damage is caused by you or your family. Even if the tragedy of a drowning should occur in your pool, the policy will protect you against claims for negligence.

Oriental Bonsai Exhibit To Be May 30-June 1

San Gabriel Valley's largest exhibit of the ancient art of bonsai will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 30 through June 1 at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum in Arcadia. The affair is the fifth annual public exhibit sponsored by the Santa Anita Bonsai Society.

Bonsai — pronounced "bone-sigh" — refers to trees grown in a shallow dish. It is an art form in which living plants are the medium. The objective of the bonsai artist is to fashion in miniature any tree that possesses artistic appeal in its form and texture. Such a tree might be a windswept Monterey pine, or a Chinese elm, or a juniper. To grow in a shallow dish a perfect replica of a tree that outdoors would reach 60 feet represents a horticultural and artistic challenge attracting increasing numbers of Southern Californians.

The basic techniques will be demonstrated and explained at 2 p.m. daily during the forthcoming exhibit at the Arboretum.

A feature of the event will be twenty competitive classes for bonsai hobbyists and professionals.

Hours for the three-day exhibit are 9:00 to 5:30 each day. Admission is free.

Sirens To Blow Friday, May 30

Civil Defense sirens will be heard again at 10 a.m. Friday, May 30, in the customary test of the warning systems held on the last Friday of each month, Sheriff Peter J. Pitchess announced.

The sirens will be heard in the usual undulating sound, which will last for one minute. In the event of an actual attack, said Pitchess, the warning systems would be sounded for from three to five minutes in the undulating tone.

er 35 miles of hiking to the search area.

Early Thursday afternoon, a plane piloted by Ray Cunningham and with observer Rae Anderson of the Sierra Madre Team, spotted the missing couple on the La Grulla meadows, some 10 miles from their camp. They had survived their 2½ day ordeal with only hard candy, koolaid and water. After establishing a communications with the lost party, it was found that they were not hurt and one of the ground teams was directed to the pair. It was then established that the couple would rejoin the Sierra Club group and hike out to the Meling Ranch by Saturday.

Miner Harkness, operations leader for the Sierra Madre Team, expressed his deepest thanks to the fine cooperation from the Southern California ham radio operators, who help maintain the only clear communication channel between Mexico and the United States. Arnold Senterfoot, Coordinator for the San Diego Sheriff's Department expressed his appreciation to all the member teams of the California Mountain Rescue Association for the aid given in making this a successful search. Most of the teams returned to the States late Thursday night, but three men remained with the Sierra Club Group for the trip back to the Meling Ranch.

VIVA Ball

"Students, teachers, parents, and administrators must work together to assure quality for all, not just some," Armitage said.

Steve Frank, student at Los Angeles City College and National Chairman of VIVA, has been commended by President Nixon for taking down the 14 foot tall barricades at L.A.C.C. and keeping his school open in spite of recent attempts on the part of militant and anarchists to close the campus and keep the majority of students from obtaining their education.

VIVA, operating on tax deductible donations, is holding its annual "Salute to the Armed Forces" ball on June 6, 1969, at the Beverly Hilton Hotel. Appropriately, funds from this event honoring America's men in the armed forces will be used by student members of VIVA to help erase tyranny and violence from their campuses. Additional information can be obtained by phoning VIVA at 447-7962 or 879-0335.

Rattlesnake Warnings By County

Avoid poisonous snake bites by being on the lookout for rattlers but at the same time be careful not to kill harmless reptiles which are beneficial in keeping down the wild rodent population, warns County Health Officer Dr. Gerald A. Heibred.

The rattlesnake is the only dangerous snake in Southern California and can be recognized by either a button or rattles on the tail, the Health Officer points out. Harmless snakes have tapered tails that come to a fine point similar in shape to a rat tail.

Anyone who finds himself in an area where new developments are being constructed in the mountainous or hilly areas of Los Angeles County should be particularly cautious since snakes have lived in these sections for many centuries. Advice on how to "snake-proof" human habitation areas may be obtained by contacting the Health Department's Entomologist at 625-3212, Ext. 325.

The Health Officer advised that rattlers will hunt for food day or night as long as the temperature is moderate. When the sun is too hot or the nights chilly, snakes will seek shelter under shrubs, logs, rocks or any other place that offers protection.

If a person is bitten by a rattlesnake, it is essential to obtain medical attention as quickly as possible. First aid measures recommended while waiting for a doctor, ambulance, or prior to transporting the victim to a medical facility for treatment are: (1) immobilize the bitten part; (2) keep the patient quiet; and (3) do not let the victim walk or run. Under no circumstances should the patient be given any alcoholic stimulant (not even whiskey, a common folklore). Intoxicating beverages tend to distribute the snake poison more quickly through the body.

Public Education Campaign To Help Stop Drug Abuse

Grey Advertising Inc., of San Francisco, will produce a public education mass communications campaign to combat growing drug abuse.

Ronald Reagan's office and the California Medical Association, joint sponsors of the project.

Initial objective of the multi-media program will be to reduce the "information vacuum" about the effects of dangerous drugs. The program will be directed to both young people and their parents.

While Grey Advertising will conduct this public service campaign on a volunteer basis, the Governor's Office will help to raise funds from the private sector to meet production and "out-of-pocket" expenses.

The California Medical Association will provide basic information and medical guidance for all creative materials.

According to Dr. Edward R. Bloomquist, of Glendale, chairman of the recently formed Interagency Council on Drug Abuse and author of the new book "Marijuana," there are now more than 25,000 hard-core addicts in the state. "The problem of dangerous drugs is reaching epidemic proportions," Dr. Bloomquist says.

"We find it reassuring that Governor Reagan believes in addition to tightening law enforcement controls, that public education offers the best chance of reversing the spiraling trend of drug abuse, particularly among our young people."

Rod Farrow, vice president and general manager of Grey's San Francisco office, said that his account group has researched the subject of drugs and their misuses in depth. "There still is considerable controversy in and about the drug community as to which drugs are harmful and to what degree," according to Farrow.

"There also is a widening 'credibility gap' between parents and young people. We have concluded that the goal of the first stage of this campaign will be to bring both generations to a common meeting ground as to what the facts really are; then we can do some persuading without having to penetrate an atmosphere of controversy."

After discussions with medical experts in the drug field, the account group got a sampling of teen-agers together and turned them loose on the subject.

"It was a startling experience," Farrow says. "The kids were extremely knowledgeable about the subject, and wary of any efforts by 'the establishment' to alter their views. It made us realize that there is a very thin line between acceptance and rejection of the drug abuse story by teenagers. As a result, we believe we must achieve the right stance in getting our message across to the dual market." Farrow said that the creative material will be direct, factual and hard hitting. "We have a tremendous responsibility to be both informative and accurate," he adds.

Media organizations have indicated a willingness to cooperate by urging their members to provide complimentary space or broadcast time for the public service campaign.

They include the California Newspaper Publishers Association, California Broadcasters Association, Southern California Broadcasters Association, and the California Outdoor Advertising Association.

Additionally, individual newspapers and broadcast outlets have expressed eagerness to participate by donating time or space. A number of businesses in California and elsewhere in the country have shown an interest in contributing to the expense budget for the program. The reason for widespread interest in the campaign is best summed up by this comment from Jack Webb, who is partici-

Surfboarders In Contest Memorial Day

More than 100 Southland surfers, ages 12 through 20, will ride the waves off Manhattan Beach Pier Saturday and Sunday, (May 31 and June 1) when the County Department of Parks and Recreation Regional Teen Unit will sponsor its first Novice Surfboard Championships.

The non-sanctioned meet, approved by the Western Surfing Association, will begin at 7 a.m. both days, according to Supervisor Frank G. Bonelli.

Surfers will have 15 minutes to catch a specified number of waves and be judged by WSA officials principally for form, length of ride, and maneuverability within wave curls.

Trophies will be awarded to winners in these divisions: Women's and girls, 12 and over; boys, 12-14; junior men's 15-17; men's division, 18-20.

pating in the development of broadcast materials: "We believe there is a desperate need to set the record straight on the drug abuse problem. We feel that a program such as this will enlighten both parents and their youngsters. They must be able to define the problem and learn what they can do about it before they can act against further advancement of the drug culture."

First appearance of the campaign is scheduled for late May. Radio will be the first medium used, with television and newspapers to follow. As production funds become available, the program will eventually expand into outdoor, transit and other media.

At Grey, the creative team includes John Checkley, copy director, and John Williams, art director. Jim Crumpacker, assistant secretary for program development, and Ray Reid, special assistant, of Governor Reagan's office, and the California Medical Association, are working with Grey Advertising to develop the campaign.

Rev. Armin Hesse Announces His Sunday Topic

"The Restless Ones," considered the most successful motion picture yet produced by Evangelist Billy Graham, will be shown at Faith Lutheran Church, 845 Hastings Ranch Drive, Pasadena, on Sunday evening, June 1 at 7 p.m.

With the accent on youth, this feature-length film deals imaginatively and dramatically with the teenage crisis. With a background setting provided by the 1963 Billy Graham Los Angeles Crusade, and artfully woven into the story pattern, "The Restless Ones" is a hard-hitting, bold approach to our social problems.

Here is a film which dares to be different, a story which will stir the heart and mind. Having seen "The Restless Ones," you will never be the same.

As one reviewer said, "Here is a picture that tells the world the truth and comes up with an answer, not an easy answer, but an answer from beyond us." This answer will satisfy, challenge, and inspire young and old alike and will appeal to church goers and non-churchgoers. The Christian message comes through in the midst of a realistic teen-age situation, clearly and without cloying. Swift-moving plot episodes highlight the opportunities facing the church.

A sensitive script, produced by World Wide Pictures under the direction of Dick Ross, has resulted in a "break-through" in "The Restless Ones."

The 10:30 Sunday morning worship hour of Faith Lutheran Church will celebrate the Festival of the Holy Trinity. The Rev. Armin Hesse will speak on the topic, "God Is Speaking."

Pride is a kind of pleasure produced by a man thinking too well of himself—Baruch Spinoza

Now in its sixty-sixth year, Pasadena College provides young people with a serious life purpose and an opportunity to gain an education in an academic environment where traditional religious values are held paramount.

For Sun. June 1 Lesson-Sermon

The Christian Science Bible Lesson-Sermon this Sunday recalls Paul's timely advice to the Romans: "The night is far spent, the day is at hand let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light." The subject of the sermon is "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."

Another passage in the lesson, from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, explains: "The Christian Scientist demonstrates that divine Mind heals, while the hypnotist dispossesses the patient of his individuality in order to control him."

Don W. Carter Appointed As NRA Referee

The National Rifle Association of America has announced the appointment of Mr. Don W. Carter of 220 E. Alegria, as an Official NRA Referee.

Mr. Carter will be assigned to referee NRA Registered Rifle and Pistol Tournaments by NRA Headquarters in Washington, D.C.

His appointment as one of the relatively few NRA Official Referees followed an intensive investigation of his experience and ability to expertly and impartially referee pistol, smallbore rifle and high power rifle competitions in accordance with the Official Rules.

In 1966, 2,730 NRA-Registered Tournaments were held in the United States. The NRA, governing body of shooting in the U.S. now has 850,000 individual members. Over 11,000 clubs are affiliated with the NRA in its programs to educate and train citizens of good repute in the safe and effective handling of firearms.

Certainly enjoyed the 38th Annual Sierra Madre Historical Society Dinner Meeting . . . Lots of people in attendance including Dr. and Mrs. Milton Valois, Mrs. Alma Morgan Deming (former Sierra Madrean now of Laguna Hills) Mr. John Morgan, Mattie Spencer, Clara Sykes, Janet Wood, Louise Mismar, Ruth Twycross, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carter, Florence Evans, Helen Hill, Lulu Moore, Nell Viera, Mayor and Mrs. Robert Hartman, Mayor Pro Tempore and Mrs. John Simmons, outgoing Mayor Ralph Rule and Mrs. Rule, and the Rev. and Mrs. Mark Trotter. Also the Rev. and Mrs. Jack Wright, the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Anderson, Dr. Aensel (curator of the Southwest Museum) and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hartman. And like we said many, many people were in attendance — something like 137 people all together. When Mrs. Dorothy Koenig, president of the Sierra Madre Historical Society asked for descendants of the original 17 families living on the 1100 acres that was Sierra Madre in 1883 to please stand, members representing four original families, stood — Carter, Wood, Andrews and Hawks. The dinner meeting was a big success and credit should certainly go to those preparing and serving the delicious meal (Clara Sykes and her committee), the decorations (Mattie Spencer and her committee) and the program, Janet Wood. Many thanks to all for a most enjoyable and interesting evening . . . only one suggestion, which we heard voiced by more than one, those chairs . . . not made for comfort, I guess!

Ceremonies attendant upon the laying of the cornerstone of the new Woman's Club house, will be held next Monday afternoon. A fine program has been arranged and a cordial invitation to attend has been extended to the public.

Early this week H. G. Flint went to Pasadena in his Mitchell car and owing to some indisposition of the bugswizzle or some other part of the internal workings was compelled to leave it in the auto hospital and came home like an ordinary commuter. An affection of the dingwatter has kept A. S. Mead's one-lunged bone grinder out of commission during most of the week. After putting in ten solid hours Wednesday attempting to adjust the flap-doodle he announced his intention of resigning as Sunday School superintendent before tackling the broken dippy-rhynchus.

After being closed since the height of the rainy season, east Central Avenue is open once more. The heavy rains made the street impassable adjacent to and east of the cemetery. Street Superintendent Lehmer has had men at work repaving the road and the road across the wash on Central is now passable. Access to the city's dumping ground can also be had.

During the absence of City Clerk Madden this week, the new safe recently purchased by the trustees for the city hall arrived. It is a large Diebold safe, large enough for the city clerk's account books and for the storage of valuable papers of the city which have hitherto had no protection from fire. It is a much needed addition to the city hall equipment.

The fine tennis court which the Misses Vannier have had constructed on the Ramona avenue lot owned by Miss Daisy Vannier promises to be one of the finest in town when completed. The lot has been filled and back nets erected and the location of the lot will make it a delightful spot for the pursuit of this most delightful game.

Descanso Garden Workshop Set For June-July

Registration for annual summer youth workshops and classes at Descanso Gardens for children 6 to 12 are now being accepted by the Youth Education Division of that County facility. Registration works this way: Parents should write immediately for class schedules and registration forms to Youth Education, Descanso Gardens, 1418 Descanso Dr., La Canada. The Youth Education staff stresses that only written requests will be honored. Forms then should be filled out and mailed back to Youth Education. Classes will be filled in the order that mailed registration forms are received.

There will be two identical three-week sessions. The first begins June 23, the second July 14. Classes meet twice a week during each session.

Five workshops are offered. They are: Plant Adventures for six and seven year olds designed to enlarge experience and skills in the fascinating world of plants.

Exploring Nature for eight and nine year olds gives personal experience in the chaparral environment. Youngsters learn to identify the unique plant and animal life they discover there.

Pond Life is planned for boys and girls 10 to 12 years old. It is an ecological study of the animal and plant life of the pond community and involves collecting specimens for identification in the classrooms.

Art in Nature for ages 10 to 12 years offers a combination of field study of nature's lines, forms and colors, and indoor projects that give students freedom for creative use of natural materials in collage and model form.

Advanced Gardening for the 12 to 14 year olds is a six week course on gardening techniques, planting and maintenance of a variety of small garden areas. It includes annuals and perennials, weed and insect control, fertilization and irrigation.

Exhibits in scale models included the Lunar Landing Craft, Gemini, Sealab, Apollo 10 space mannikin, the Polaris submarine, Saturn, Delta, Thor rockets, an atomic generating facility, space communications satellite, some of them animated.

Richards of the local volunteer fire department, attended the demonstration by the Angeles Forest Protective Assn. in Arroyo Seco Saturday and came home imbued with the idea of adding an auxiliary truck to the local department's equipment. course it is isolated and 10 miles from a larger city. No, it is definitely not any one thing that has Sierra Madre going down, down, and down in the business world; it is a combination of things which must be righted very soon or the condition of the buildings and the merchants will be lost.

— CT —
Many are banking on a new shopping center to come into our vicinity and right all the wrongs. . . . Don't bank on that one too heavily. If it comes, it is a long way in doing so, it ever. And if it does it will not cure many ills of the merchants of Sierra Madre, unless they make an attempt to hit their wagon to the "STAR".

— CT —
As this subject comes up for discussion, we will endeavor to talk about it again, in the meantime everyone remember. . . . "A merchant that does not promote is like a man who winks in the dark. . . . He knows what he is doing, but nobody else does."

— CT —
Just like the other day, I had pulled up to one of the stop signs in Sierra Madre and was just about to proceed when the car across the street and one on the side street tried to get through the intersection at the same time and "locked horns, or bumpers". . . . The woman motorist jumped out of her car after the collision with the other car and shouted in a loud tone

— CT —
"What in the world is wrong with you Sierra Madre drivers, don't you people ever watch where you are driving? . . . You're the fourth one I've hit this morning!" . . . And sometimes that is the way woman drivers feel.

— CT —
There are a couple of the boys in the Fire Department that have "false teeth" and when they are called out during the early morning hours they have been known to forget them and leave them at home.

— CT —
Of course after the fire is over they are subjected to a lot of "torment," especially by the younger boys, and this always reminds me of a story that came out of World War II. Seems that the American bombers were over Berlin, and the conversation in one household in Germany went something like this . . .

— CT —
"Hurry," the hausfrau shouted to her husband "Let's go to the shelter." "I can't find my false teeth," yelled the husband. "What do you think they're dropping, sand-wiches?" . . . And that has always been my argument. We do not go to the fire to "bite at it," neither will victims at the fire be serving sandwiches. . . . Of course, everyone does have to have a little fun.

— CT —
So, with those remarks we will close up the column for this week with the following bit of sage advice to all mothers and fathers. . . . When your baby boy is old enough to ask for a blond instead of a brunette baby sitter, he's old enough to stay by himself, I hope, I hope, I hope.

Broken hips seem to be "the thing" this season. Latest Sierra Madrean to fall victim to such an injury is Toyarian Helen Peterson and the day she picked for her "downfall" was May 1. Not wanting to waste time or be idle, while still in the hospital, Helen is doing Toy Loan book work to keep busy. What dedication! For those of you wishing to send a note of cheer to our Toyarian, she is in room 309 at St. Lukes.

Lima Street. His leave started the beginning of May and extends until the end of the month. Admiring their uncle from the "hero worship section" are Kelley Anne (7), Kimberley Jane (4) and Jon Wesley (9 months).

Some of the local people seen wandering around admiring the exhibits at the Art Fair were Mert Waite and her mother and father; Madeline Smith; Helen Hill; John Goodall; Mary Tumilty; William and Margaret Van Sieten, and many, many more. Some of the many exhibiting artists on hand to answer questions were Paula Randall, Dennis Davis, Rosita Montgomery and Dick Johnson.

As far as we can see, the 7th Annual Art Fair must have been a huge success. Appeared that most of Sierra Madre was there too. Works of art were all beautiful individual creations. Everything was clean, orderly and well organized.

Letters To the Editor

Dear Editor:
OUR RIGHT TO VOTE ON SCHOOL TAX OVERRIDES HAS BEEN TAKEN AWAY FROM US!

When? August, 1967. How? By a very quietly and unpublicized clause inserted into the 48 page school finance bill AB272, presented at the last rush of the Legislature. What does this mean? In the clause, the maximum school tax rate prescribed by law has been eliminated. The people will no longer be able to vote on school tax overrides because the school boards will have complete control of setting the school tax rate on your property! Is this a law now? Yes: Will we be able to vote on it? No! When will it become effective? July 1, 1971. What could be the results if this law is not repealed? Come July 1, 1971, we can expect a huge property tax increase. Thousands of people will lose their homes and hundreds of business run out of California because of the increased school tax burden on the already overburdened taxpayer!

I and many others feel that school board are too easily manipulated by school administrators and so should not have the power to set the school tax rate on our property with no control whatsoever by the voter!

Has any action been taken by the Legislature on this matter? Yes. A bill was introduced last year to repeal this clause. The Senate passed it but the Assembly killed it. This year Senate bill 35 has been introduced by 24 Senators to do the same thing. Once again the Senate has passed it. It is being held in Assembly committee for more public support. It will come up for hearing June 2, 1969. Public pressure is the only thing that will give us back our right to vote on school tax overrides!

What can you do about it? Write to Assem. V. Veysey, chairman Education Committee, to your own Assemblyman (reminding him that it is your vote that helps to elect him) and to Gov. Reagan, asking their support of and vote for SB25. All addresses, State Capitol, Sacramento, Calif. 95814.

WRITE TODAY! June 2nd is fast approaching!

GROCERY STRIKE POSSIBLE

A strike against Los Angeles area supermarkets by Retail Clerks Union Local 770, hung like the proverbial sword over the industry and consumer alike, suspended only by the thin thread of Federal Mediation efforts.

Both the Food Employers Council, represented by its President, Robert K. Fox, and Local 770, which voted to strike Wednesday, agreed to meet jointly with Federal Mediators Monday morning to stave the threat off.

An agreement, however, according to Fox, was as distant as ever.

What separated both factions, he said, was a union demand package which might cost Southern California consumers $25 million a year more in higher food prices. If Local 770 has its way, clerks who are now making almost $9500 a year in wages and fringe benefits would get almost $2000 more.

Eight of nine Southern California clerks unions which have accepted and ratified a contract with employers and termed it "substantial," were all at work in markets from San Luis Obispo down to the Mexican border.

Only metropolitan Los Angeles was threatened, but the threat was serious because of the numbers of people involved and because any additional concessions to the union would have an impact on the other nine counties.

Local 770 has some 16,000 members, about a third of all the clerks in Southern California. About a third of all the 10 million consumers in the nine counties also reside in the greater Los Angeles area.

Food availability to these millions is not in question, Fox said.

The stores will remain open with supervisory help and with help recruited from among homemakers determined to keep food supplies flowing to their families, from church members who have volunteered their services and others willing to work in the event of a strike.

Some markets, said the FCC chief, have as much as 7 per cent of necessary replacements recruited and trained for clerks' jobs.

"There will be some transitional hardship and inconvenience, of course," said Fox, "but the consumer will be served, as always."

The decision to strike is up to one man, the manager of Local 770, Joseph T. DeSilva. It was DeSilva who requested and was given a strike authorization in two mass meetings of 770 members last Wednesday.

The fact that less than a third of the membership attended, and that even then the vote was not unanimous by far, did not alter the power over the consumer and market alike which the action placed in the hands of one man.

What makes it more difficult for the supermarkets and their patrons is that DeSilva needs no further approval from anyone to call a strike at will.

In a way, it's like a "hot button" in an atomic war. A whim of the Local 770 manager could set off a chain reaction like the strike in 1959, when the clerks were out for 28 days, also on DeSilva's responsibility.

Money alone is not the problem, negotiation observers reported. There is also a question of power for DeSilva.

He was snubbed by six clerks' unions after an abortive attempt to seize control over the clerks' international union last year. The six negotiated with the supermarkets on their own and signed a contract before expiration of the old one, April first.

They accepted an employer offer of 60c an hour raise in wages, a ninth paid holiday a year, a fourth week of paid vacation after 15 years' service and a retirement pension increase after 20 years to $250 a month.

Two other unions siding with DeSilva in the early negotiations then also accepted the proposal, leaving Local 770 to bargain alone. Feeling between DeSilva and the other locals is said to run so high that he has asked for a veto power over their trust fund decisions as one of the strike issues.

Joseph H. Blachford, head of the Peace Corps, "The thing to do is to mobilize people to help themselves."

FROM THE FIRE SIDE

By One of the Boys

Any day now, you are going to have seven of the happiest boys in town, that is at least at the moment they think they are going to be happy. They are the Rah! Rah! boys from the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department who, for the past six months have been attending college at PCC.

— SMVFD —
All seven of these boys are now close to completing their work. Their projects are in, and they are pleased with themselves. Their term papers have been collected by the teacher, as have the note books, and here again the boys are quite pleased with themselves, I guess, unknowingly some helped out the others, but everybody is glad to help out a buddy.

— SMVFD —
Now, about all that is left between them and graduation is the final examination that will be forthcoming in the next couple of weeks. "No sweat" a couple of them have told me, seems they have some of the answers tattooed on their chests, arms and under the tops of their socks.

— SMVFD —
I personally had a long talk with one of them, sort of an interview, just to see what all the enthusiasm was about, and what each of them expected out of the graduation. Well to tell you the truth, after the first interview, I haven't gone any further.

— SMVFD —
This one chap told me, and I have always considered him just a little smarter than the average bear, that after all when he graduated that he would receive 3 college points for his work. "Oh, I said, "that is wonderful, what in the world will you do with three points once you get your hands on 'em."

— SMVFD —
The answer that I got from this knowledgeable kid went something like this. "Well you see, when I accumulate 60 points I will become a bachelor." Well, I knew that he was an old married man, but sometimes the desire to become a bachelor is just more than a man can endure.

— SMVFD —
But 60 points at 3 points a 3 points a year will take 20 years. Now some of the younger boys I can understand this way of figuring, just in case, you know, but for an old Reservist to cast his thoughts 20 years hence; well, I gave up my interviews right there.

— SMVFD —
But, putting all joking aside, I personally think this is wonderful. Here seven volunteers are taking their time to go to night college classes one night a week, and some of them going two nights, just so they can take care of any problems that may arise during a Fire Call, or a Rescue Call.

— SMVFD —
Most of the boys, or I might say all seven of them are taking "Fire Rescue," and for the second night of schooling some are taking "Hydraulics." All of this, of course, is not required, it is what they want to do, and I think it is great, just real great. If it all works out, later I may try for bachelorhood myself.

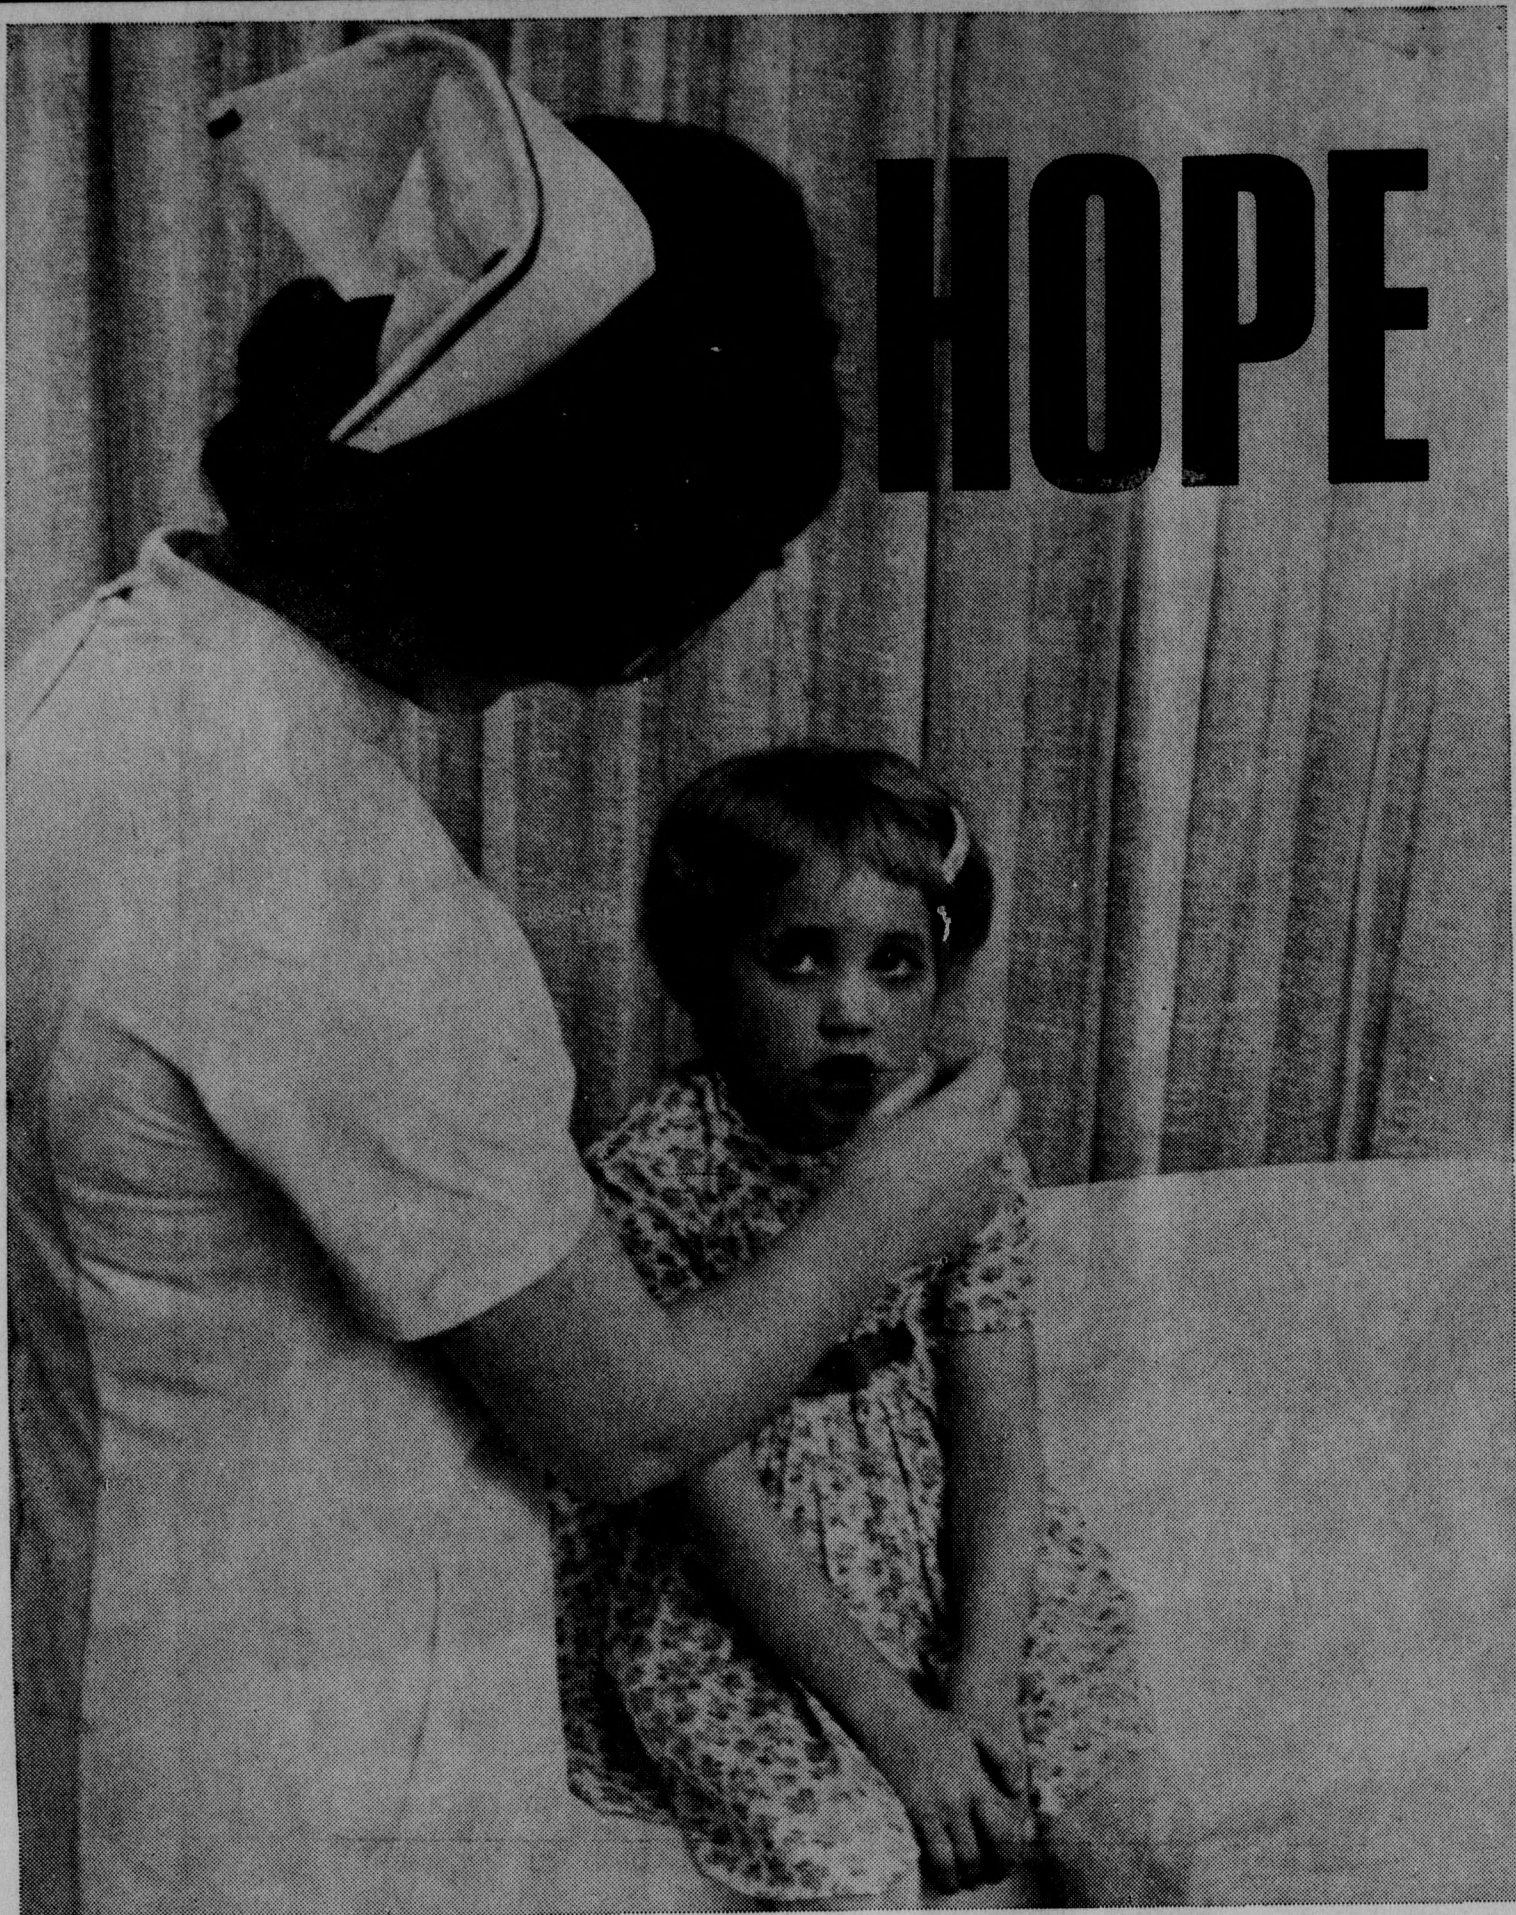

— SMVFD —
The regular Friday night drill really surprised most of the firefighters, and the younger boys seemed to be out of their gourd. You see Chief Charley Brown set up a real live fire for the boys to tackle.

— SMVFD —
Some of the younger boys have not been with the department long enough to have the opportunity to sink their teeth in a real live hot fire, and since most people will tell you, especially the Police Department, most firefighters are Pyros anyway, and a real hot one is like leading a duck for his first swim in the lake.

— SMVFD —
Due to the generosity of a former Captain and now Reserve Bobby Clark, he gave to the department as a gift one old dilapidated, worn out, impounded, stripped automobile, and hauled it off to the City Yards.

— SMVFD —
Chief Charles Brown with the help of his officers set up seven drills, causing seven runs with the automobile in full flame. Quite a thrill for the young firefighters, rather "Old Hat" for the older boys, but still a lot of fun, and a whole lot of experience and knowledge was learned by all, even though a couple

De Gaulle Departs

All de Gaulle used to be divided into three parts. Now it's four.

The retired president of France was known as the Man of 18 June, of 13 May, of 30 May — the three dates on which, first, he rallied a fallen nation and gave it back its honor, rescued it from threats of civil war and started its rebuilding in his own vainglorious image, and lastly saved his own crumbling regime a year ago.

The fourth part of de Gaulle is the saddened, repudiated old man who was defeated at the polls when his referendum for governmental change was rejected by the people.

Ornery and irritating as the general was in his rather pompous search for "le gloire," he was a commanding figure in his time. The history of France would no doubt be violently different had it not been for him. Stubbornly and autocratically he fought his own nation's apathy and other nations' opposition in an attempt to give France a place of command in the world. Stubbornness was his strength and it probably was his eventually fatal weakness. He could harbor no rebuff, no deviation from the course he had set. He had to stand or fall. And finally he fell.

History, as we always say, will have to judge his eventual place in the pantheon of national leaders. But things won't be quite the same without le grand Charlie around stirring things up. If, of course, he stays in retirement.

The Busy Bar

Lives there a man with soul so dead who never to himself hath said, "I'm overworked"?

Count the judges among that category. During the 1967-68 fiscal year California courts did a record volume of business. From the State Supreme Court to the justice courts, the case load was up.

There were 2,959 filings in the high court, a 9 per cent increase. The five Courts of Appeal acted on 13,403 transactions, up 26 per cent. Superior court filings totalled a record 467,432 cases, 20,932 more than the previous high a year ago in the trial courts of general jurisdiction. The state's 253 justice courts had small percentages of gain, but still significant.

The two most disturbing increases were in criminal and juvenile cases. Criminal cases were up about 19 per cent, totalling 55,083; juvenile cases rose more than 13 per cent, to 65,740.

To meet the needs of overcrowded court calendars, Chief Justice Roger J. Traynor, Chairman of the Judicial Council, made a record 3,750 judicial assignments, topping last year's 3,575.

Statistics tell only part of the story. The burden on the skills and wisdom and compassionate realism of the men behind the bench is enormous — a notable reason behind continuing efforts to bring into the courts more and more men who truly merit the honor and the solemn responsibility of judging their fellow citizens.

Poor Cesar

Two incidents took place last week — one in Fresno and one in New York City — that cast a curious reflection on the glorious "huelga" and boycott of California tables grapes by Cesar Chavez and his United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

In Fresno, Chavez' 20 year old son, Fernando, refused induction into the Army under the glare of television lights, claiming that he is a conscientious objector. "Because of my poverty, I have been denied my rights," he claimed. "All I want are the same rights that the son of a rich man gets."

On April 19, the New York Times featured a picture of a fashionably dressed Dolores Huerta, Chavez' chief lieutenant, conversing with her host George Plimpton of the best-seller "Paper Lion" fame, at a party in Plimpton's spectacular East River Drive duplex described by the Times as "The Place to Be."

"The Plimpton reception," the Times reported, "was the last part of a $25-a-person benefit" for "Cesar Chavez' striking grape pickers, a favorite cause of the New Left branch of New York society."

Articles glorifying Chavez and his lieutenants have been featured in such magazines as Look, Vogue and Ramparts. He may not have many followers among farm workers, but he's the darling of that strange breed of moneyed leftists who smile indulgently on every revolutionary cause.

So please, Cesar — and son of Cesar — spare us that poor mouth bit.

Holy Loophole

In the growing protest against our present tax laws, a good many fingers are pointed at religious groups and their exemption from many levies.

It is argued, for instance, that churches derive considerable income from business projects far removed from the realm of theology, and in direct competition with heavily taxed non-church entrepreneurs. It isn't fair, the complaint goes, and the churches shouldn't do it.

Why shouldn't they? The law says they can. Law created by the same representatives of the people who decided how much of us must pungle up in tribute from our incomes.

Exploitation of this holy loophole is being carried probably to its ridiculous extreme in that burgeoning new religious sect centered in Modesto. Almost anyone can become a minister, and any three people can incorporate and gain property tax exemption by designating their homes as a church. Under the law, so it seems.

It's almost as if lawmakers have created an eleventh commandment for a segment of the population: "Thou shalt not pay taxes."

It is quite possible that some of the exemptions now permitted authentic religious organizations need revision, in all fairness to the body of taxpayers. So do many other tax loopholes. What is imperative is that tax reform shall be meaningful to us all.

SENSING THE NEWS

AROUND THE U. S. CAPITOL

Until very recently the U. S. public assumed that the only significant threat to the quality medical care for the American people was increased federal control of medicine. Many people in this country are mindful of how British medicine has deteriorated since the advent of the Welfare State under the Labor Party. But an even more direct and serious threat is emerging in the form of a ruthless unionization drive to enlist hospital workers and to beat private and public hospitals to their knees.

A strike that should receive national attention, on account of the threat it poses to American medical care, is the strike called by the Drug and Hospital Workers Union against the Medical College of South Carolina.

It is not a commonplace strike by any means, for it involves a joint offensive with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), headed by the Rev. Ralph Abernathy—the protest leader who conducted the notorious Poor People's Campaign in the nation's capital last summer. SCLC has been conducting a civil disobedience campaign in the streets of Charleston, S.C., where the Medical College is located, in an attempt to force the State of South Carolina to enter into collective bargaining with the union.

The National Labor Relations Act and its amendments exempt state and local government from its requirements. Thus South Carolina is under no obligation to negotiate with the union, which has notoriously left-wing leadership. Gov. Robert E. McNair has refused to deal with the union, and the South Carolina Legislature has backed him up in a special resolution. The Governor has rightly pointed out that recognition of and negotiation with a public employee union would disrupt every department and agency of the state and plunge South Carolina into debt.

And now Walter Reuther, mobile Workers, has got in head of the United Auto-the act. In a fiery speech before the strikers, he presented them with a check for $10,000 — and promised more if they needed it.

Every state has a vital stake in the outcome of the dispute. The union and SCLC believe that if they crack South Carolina, they will be able to crack other states. The union aims at nothing less than an iron grip on U. S. hospitals. "This campaign," syndicated columnist Victor Riesel has said, "will shake many of the cities in which are virtually all of the land's 7,200 hospitals."

If America's hospitals become a union domain, it is clear what will happen to American medical care; it will deteriorate to an almost unthinkable level. A hospital is like a ship. It has to be run by professionals and operated on a taut, disciplined basis. Hospitals have to move fast on orders issued by doctors and administrators. Doctors would have no assurance that orders would be carried out promptly, if at all. Indeed the country should understand that the likelihood is that patients would be left unattended at times of critical need.

What thoughtful citizen wants to be treated in a hospital where the decisions are made by union bosses, not by medical professionals? Yet unless public speaks out and condemns unionization of hospitals, ruthless union leaders may have their way.

The adjective "ruthless" is used advisedly. In the strike called against the Medical College of South Carolina, unionists deserted their posts at the hospital, leaving patients unattended. SCLC mounted mass rallies in the vicinity of the hospital, creating noise detrimental to seriously ill persons. An attempt was made to force entry into the teaching hospital — an attempt thwarted only by the presence of police.
